Claims 2-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the International Patent No. WO 00/26244 in view of Agouridas et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,747,467) for the reasons set forth in the Office Action of May 2, 2003.

Applicant's arguments filed November 3, 2003 have been considered but have not been found persuasive.

Agouridas et al patent was used to show that erythromycin antibiotics having a halogen group at the 2-position were well known in the art at the time the instant invention was made and a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the instant invention was made would have been motivated to modify the compounds disclosed by the International Patent at the 2-position in accordance with the teaching by Agouridas et al.

Applicant also contends that the cited references do not disclose a method for halogenating a 12, 11-aminocarbonyl and further substituting the 12-N-amino group. This argument has not been found persuasive. Note that claims 2-7 and 9-10 are not directed to such methods. With respect to claim 8, note that the International Patent discloses substituting 12-N-amino group. The 2 position is not involved in said substitution.

Therefore, the claimed compounds and methods are still seen to be prima facie obvious over the cited references.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
